La Petite Collection

One Year of Art, Intimacy, and the Emerging Epoch

La Petite Collection marks the anniversary of The Salon — a culminating exhibition of the most sought-after works from a year of private salons, artist discoveries, and transatlantic encounters. Presented in a vintage West Village apartment, the former home of Salonnière Lauren Gardner, the space itself mirrors The Salon's essence: lived-in, elegant, and quietly radical.

This collection brings together a handpicked group of artists from Paris, London, and New York — those whose work has resonated most deeply with The Salon's growing circle. Each piece reflects a new kind of artistic era we're building together: personal, poetic, and reflective of a global creative shift led by a generation unafraid to be intimate.

More than an exhibit, La Petite Collection is a portrait of The Salon's first chapter — and of the new cultural collective it has begun to shape.
